

Coronavirus Response

The Government has announced that we are moving out of the contain phase and into delay, in response to the ongoing coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak.

In-Comm Training, like all businesses across the UK, is putting in place new measures to protect its staff, learners and our customers, whilst still trying to deliver our Apprenticeships and upskilling courses to the highest possible standards.

We have taken the necessary decision to limit the travelling our assessors are doing and this will include replacing on site-visits with remote assessments. Preparation for this is already taking place and this service should go live w/c 23rd March.

Your assessor will guide you through this process and work with you to ensure existing technology can make this possible.

A similar approach will be taken with client managers visiting companies, with all meetings to be completed via remote sessions.

Attendance at wider events will also be discussed and a risk assessment conducted before employees are given permission to attend.

I hope that you understand these measures are being put in place to keep everyone safe and I am more than happy to answer any questions you may have.

We will continue to monitor the latest advice from the Government and further updates will follow.

With Best Wishes
